The 2018 B. Bernard Weinstein Memorial Lecture

Anjali Niyogi, MD, MPH
“The History of Health as a Human Right”

Dr. Anjali Niyogi is an Assistant Professor of Internal Medicine and Pediatrics at Tulane Medical Center. She is a Hospitalist at University Medical Center, is a co-founder and co-director of the Resident Initiative in Global Health at Tulane, the founder and director of the Formerly Incarcerated Transitions (FIT) Clinic in New Orleans, and a volunteer physician with the asylum network with Physician for Human Rights.

She obtained her medical and public health degrees from Tulane School of Medicine and Tulane School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine. She was a resident in internal medicine and pediatrics during Hurricane Katrina and established ad-hoc clinics throughout the city in immediate aftermath of the storm. She has worked internationally in India, Ghana, Uganda, Ethiopia, and most recently, Greece and Mexico working with Syrian and Central American refugees.

History of Medicine Society Paper Contest Awards

The B. Bernard Weinstein Award
For outstanding original research in the History of Medicine.
Established in memory of Dr. Benjamin Bernard Weinstein, who was born in New Orleans in 1913. He received his B.S. (1933), M.D. (1937), and M.S. (1940) from Tulane University. While a medical student at Tulane, Dr. Weinstein was instrumental in the founding of the History of Medicine Society. He was one of the first physicians in New Orleans to develop and pursue an interest in the field of endocrinology. As an obstetrician-gynecologist, he received international recognition for his work in the areas of fertility and sterility. Dr. Weinstein passed away in 1974.

The Rudolph Matas Award
For the most outstanding paper presented on the History of Medicine.
In memory of Dr. Rudolph Matas, who entered the Medical College of Louisiana (now Tulane) in 1877. Dr. Matas served as chairman of Surgery at Tulane from 1895-1927. So great was the influence of Dr. Matas that the world's highest honor for surgery of the heart and blood vessels is named in his honor.

The Isaac Ivan Lemann Award
For a paper of outstanding quality on the History of Medicine.
Established in memory of Dr. Isaac Ivan Lemann, who graduated from Tulane Medical School in 1900. Dr. Lemann served in the Tulane Medical Unit during WWI, after which he joined the faculty at Tulane as a Professor of Medicine. He was a pioneer in the use of insulin and served as the faculty advisor to the History of Medicine Society.

The Willard L. Marmelzat Foundation Award
For quality of research and writing of a paper on the History of Medicine.
Established by Dr. Willard Marmelzat, a native of New Orleans and a 1944 graduate of Tulane Medical School. He delivered the 25th anniversary B. Bernard Weinstein Lecture in 1977.

The Sydney Jacobs Memorial Award
For the most outstanding paper on the moral and ethical aspects of medicine.
Established in memory of Dr. Sydney Jacobs. Dr. Jacobs graduated from Tulane Medical School in 1930. Dr. Jacobs was the national president of the TB and Respiratory Disease Association, now known as the American Lung Association. President Reagan named him to the American Lung Hall of Fame in 1981 and to the Council on Aging.
Thank you

The Executive Board of the Tulane History of Medicine Society welcomes all friends and supporters to the annual B. Bernard Weinstein Memorial Lecture and Banquet. We have had a wonderful year and could not have done it without the support of our friends inside and outside of the medical school.

We thank you.
